Twenty Dollars reward.
Ran away on Tuesday night last, from the subscriber, a Negro Man, named
JOHN GRAHAM,
ABOUT five feet ten inches high, yellow complexion, has a scar on one of his cheeks, stoops when he walks, and is a little round shouldered.—Took with him a blue broad cloth coat, a pair of dark cassimer pants, with some other articles of apparel. The subscriber bought him about four months ago of Mr. Foster, in Flemingsburg, near Limestone, who purchased him of a Mr. Gill in Charleston, S. C.—To which place I suspect he will attempt to return. There are strong reasons for believing that he stole a sorrel horse, with a new saddle and bridle belonging to Mr. Geo. Tegarden. Whoever will return a said negro, or secure him in any goal, so that he be put in the possession of the subscriber, shall be entitled to the above reward, and all reasonable charges—and fifty dollars, if taken out of the state.

1000 ACRES OF LAND,
Lying at the forks of Licking, adjoining the town of Palmouth, the greater part of which is bottom, and inferior to none in the state. The advantage of this tract, of navigation from the spot, its eligibility for every kind of water works, the proximity of its containing a large quantity of Iron Ore, and its contiguity to the County seat of justice, combine to render it one of the most desirable speculations in the Western country.—By a person of equal and enterprize, this situation may, in various ways, be improved, comparatively at but little expense, into an estate of great magnitude. For a stock farm, or for hemp or tobacco, no place in the state is entitled to a preference. Apply to Thos. Bidley, and Chas. Humphreys, Esqrs. or the subscriber.
Also, A TRACT OF LAND, six miles from Louisville, one and a half mile from the Ohio, containing 1000 acres, and a fine tanning land.

I will take for these two last pieces of property, whiskey, sugar, molasses, rice, yams, and tobacco. Mr. J. M. G. will show the land near Louisville, and contract for the house and lot, apply to Mr. Chas. Williams for the same.
