brother, Thomas Mathew, of Northumberland county, Va. Thomas Mathew returned to England and died in 1705 or 1706.

The will of Thomas Mathew, formerly of Cherry Point, Bowtracy (a parish unknown to Bishop Meade, but frequently appearing in the early records of the county), Northumberland county, Va., merchant; dated May 6th, 1703, and proved P. C. C. February 6th, 1706, as that of Thomas Mathew, of the parish of St Margaret's, Westminster; directs that if he die in or about London, he shall be buried by his son William, in the Church of St. Dunstan in the East—Legatees; his sons John and Thomas and daughter Anne, to whom he gives his lands in Stafford county; and at Cherry Point, Northumberland, &c., &c.; and directs that his brother-in-law, Captain John Cralle, shall hold his tenure in Cherry Point Neck during life. Captain Cralle presented the will for record in Northumberland.

The register of St. Stephen's parish, Northumberland, gives the dates of the births of his children, John, March 23d, 1677; Ann, February 27th, 1679; and Thomas, January 23d, 1680.

March 5th, 1677-'8, Northumberland County Court, sitting at the house of Mr. Thomas Mathew, as a "Court Maritime," gave judgment against Mr. Robert Finney, master of the ship Constant Mathew, of London, for a violation of the navigation laws.

Northumberland, February, 1679-80, the court ordered a certificate to be granted to Mr. Thomas Mathew for 3,800 acres of land, for the transportation of seventy-six persons into the colony, including himself and ten negroes from Barbadoes, himself from London, and himself and three negroes from New England.

By a power of attorney, dated January 3d, 1737, Thomas Mathew, of Sherborn Lane, London, gent. (the surviving executor of Thomas Mathew, of Cherry Point, in Virginia, merchant); and Mr. John Mathew, of London, merchant, and his wife, who was the only daughter of the said Thomas Mathew, deceased, reciting that Thomas Mathew left a plantation in Stafford county, Va., to his three children, John, Thomas and Anna, and the said John having died intestate in 1735, and no issue living, authorize Thomas Crompton, of Maryland, to sell the said plantation.

Fourth Virginia Regiment in the Revolution.—Mr. P. Fall Taylor, of Frankfort, Kentucky, in sending us the subjoined lists, writes as follows:

"Striking evidence is given of the condition of the troops of the Virginia Line in 1778 by the 'return' made by Lieutenant Samuel Gill, of the Fourth Virginia Regiment.

"These men had served out the term of their enlistment, which must have been a long and hard one, and were on their way home. Of these 'old Continentals in their ragged regimentals' not one could 'fall in' with a complete equipment, and some of them were without either coat, 'hatt' or shoes; even 'overhalls' seem to have been a luxury.

"Of the officers, Brigadier-General Charles Scott was a brave but rough veteran of the French and Indian war, where he served as a corporal in Braddock's defeat. He is said to have raised and commanded the first company of volunteers raised south of James river for the Revolution. He was in active service, and his promotion was rapid until he was taken prisoner at Charleston in 1780, from which time he was on parole until the end of the war. In 1785 he removed to Kentucky, presumably to locate the 13,000 acres of bounty land given him by Virginia. He was appointed brigadier-general of the Kentucky militia, and served in the Indian wars with St. Clair, Wilkinson and Wayne until his election as Governor, in 1808, for a term of four years, which closed his public life.

"Heitman's 'Historical Register of the Officers of the Continental Army' states: 'Samuel Gill, ensign Fourth Virginia, 10th February, 1776; first lieutenant, November, 1776; captain, January, 1777; retired 14th September, 1778.' For his services Lieutenant Gill received 4,000 acres of bounty land in Kentucky, and it was among some old land claims that these papers, with his commission, were found in an old trunk.

"Trusting that the publication of these documents will induce others to bring out their venerable relics of the Revolution, they are offered to the readers of the Virginia Magazine.

P. FALL TAYLOR."

Sir,—You are to proceed to Virginia with a party of Discharged Soldiers. You will draw provisions for them at the different Stages as you may think Convenient. Attention must be paid that the Soldiers march with some Regularity, & particularly that they are prevented from straggling and Injuring the Inhabitants.

CHAS. SCOTT, B. G.

To Lieut. Sam'l Gill, 4th Virg'a Reg't.

Issue provisions for a party of Discharged Soldiers under the care of Lieut. Gill upon his order.

feb'r 21st, 78.

CH'S SCOTT, B. G.

To the Comissarys between Camp and Leesburg, Virga.

Permit Lieut. Gill to pass over all Ferries between Camp & Leesburg in Virg'a free without cost.
